The Leonards serving in Fiji

January/February Prayer Letter 2017

Bula! from the Leonard family!

January Highlights: We spent a majority of our time in January preparing to hit the roads again, checking in at our home church and visiting local churches. We were able to update our prayer card with Benjamin's picture, update our banner photos, and design personal prayer cards for the girls to hand out. They were really excited to have their own prayer card to give to the many friends they meet as we travel. We have a copy of these in PDF form on our website if you would like a copy. Another adjustment was packing and getting everything set to travel with Benjamin. For such a small boy, he does require a lot of other "things" we have to take along, but we are thankful he is a happy traveler so far.

We started back on the road the end of January and had our first meeting in Tennessee on the 29th. We then started on our way to Arkansas for the month of February.

February Highlights: For a short month, we packed a lot into February. We started off with a great missions conference, which included seeing fellow missionary friends and making new friends. One great blessing was seeing a man accept Christ while on visitation. The conference was an excellent time of encouragement for our family. We left there to visit and base out of my great uncle's home, which was a center point for the rest of our meetings.

I presented our burden for Fiji and preached in three more churches. At one church we had the pleasure to attend a Valentine's Banquet where I shared a short devotional with the couples. It was a special time of fun and fellowship.

At the conclusion of those meetings I flew to Montana to attend a missions conference, leaving Amanda and the children in the care of my great uncle in Arkansas. The church was one we had visited while in Montana last summer, and it was exciting to see many of the friends we had made during our pervious visit.

I flew back to Arkansas, gathered up the family and head to our final missions conference. We had a blessed time, and we are thankful for the great people we met. We were able to park our camper at a Christian camp nearby and help with some renovations they were trying to complete before the camp season began.

Thank you for your prayers as we travel. It is a blessing to know that no matter how many miles we travel, God is with us and helping us along the way.
